

Metrics Global, Inc Announces Availability of Gateway for Global Payment Processing

Wed May 11, 11:00 am ET

New MLM-friendly gateway not only allows businesses to accept all major credit and debit cards for the USA and abroad, but also enables processing of transactions in multiple currencies from a single interface.

Henderson, NV (PRWEB) May 11, 2011

Metrics Global, Inc a worldwide provider of merchant services, today announced the introduction of the Metrics Global Gateway. Appropriate for businesses of any size, this unique payment gateway has unsurpassed flexibility and is truly global. By allowing business owners to utilize one gateway to accept all major domestic and multiple international credit cards, as well as debit cards and domestic electronic checks, the gateway addresses an unmet need among US-based businesses that want to quickly capitalize on growth in the US and international markets.

“Unlike many existing payment gateways, the Metrics Global Gateway allows transactions in multiple currencies to be processed using a single gateway. This is a clear advantage because business owners now have the flexibility to pursue international opportunities without switching gateway providers,” said Wendy M. Yurgo, President and CEO of Metrics Global.

According to Yurgo, there are a host of other advantages, including live, US-based technical support, several built-in analytical tools, QuickBooks integration, and a virtual vault to secure customer data – a must in today’s society. “It seems there’s a new incidence of data theft reported every week and this can be a significant issue for small business owners,” said Yurgo. “Because our gateway uses a remote server, there’s no data stored on our clients’ servers and that gives them peace of mind; not only because of the reduced risk of external data breach, but also because even their internal employees don’t have access to raw customer data.”

In addition, business owners can set up recurring billing for any number of customers and employ what’s called “load balancing” which allows transactions to be spread among a multiple processors. This can be an important advantage for those involved in direct selling such as MLM organizations, affiliate marketers and party plans.

The Metrics Global Gateway also incorporates an innovative option called iSpyFraud™ which can be used to add several administrator-defined layers of fraud protection. Another available option allows business owners to utilize an automated PCI certification tool, which makes an industry mandated, but rather taxing process, relatively painless.

With the introduction of the Global Gateway for payment processing, Metrics Global, which has for years provided merchant accounts, now becomes a single source provider of comprehensive merchant services. For more information, visit <http://www.MetricsGlobal.com>.
